LETTER FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Greetings,

I know you've heard the saying multiple times, "It Takes a Village!" It's a powerful message that speaks to a community that contributes to a healthier upbringing of children. In Kane County we have this village - comprised of our schools, counseling centers, health departments, judiciary, nonprofit organizations and the list continues. Together, we are making the connections and bringing together the services and partnerships that exist in our county to raise a child!

CASA Kane County, The Regional Office of Education and the Kane County's State's Attorney came together to create a Mandated Reporting Initiative to educate and enforce "See Something - Say Something" in reporting abuse. Regardless if you are legally a mandated reporter or not - we all have an obligation to report suspicions of abuse or neglect! We should never question picking up the phone and dialing the 1-800-25-ABUSE hotline. You have nothing to lose, but that child has everything to lose. You will see more information on this as cards and flyers are distributed throughout Kane County this month.

With the release of our new education and compliance webpage, I am happy to announce after several years in the making and strategic planning that CASA University is going live. It is a comprehensive platform of learning and compliance for our CASA/GAL volunteers, staff and Board of Directors. It is intended to bring all of our valuable resources, education, compliance and culture together to embrace our child advocacy needs and best interests.

As a donor of this organization you have made possible the learning objectives, technology and finances to triage the support that our 200 plus

CASA/GAL volunteers and staff need. In doing so, you've assisted in bringing the private and public sectors together. All of our volunteers are absolutely remarkable and it has been a privilege to walk alongside them in advocating for more than 500 youth in the foster care system. I'm also proud to share with you that when you hear from our Judges that the reports they read first are from the CASA volunteer, you know we are doing something powerful and life changing. The cases that are assigned to us are quite complex in nature, but with the supervision of the team and the guidance of our staff GAL attorneys, we are able to ensure the right things are being done. The CASA/GAL volunteer makes the visit, gets to know the child down to the color of their eyes. We are the voice that brings that human side in a revolving door of inconsistency for that child who has had their entire life turned upside down with constant new faces and places - except for that CASA/GAL volunteer!

Lastly, as you read this publication and discover all the happenings at CASA in the coming months, we are thrilled to have Chris Norton join us at the Annual Super Heroes Luncheon in the fall. Chris suffered a spinal cord injury while playing football at Luther College in Iowa. The doctors gave Chris a 3% chance of moving anything below his neck again. Four years later, he defied the odds and not only walked across the stage at his college graduation, but a few years after that, walked down the aisle at his wedding. His story has been featured on Good Morning, America, TodayShow.com, NBC Nightly News, CBS, USA Today, and Sports Illustrated. Chris is now a well-respected motivational speaker and speaks at numerous events across the country. Chris's message focuses on the fact that we all face challenges, but our circumstances don't define us—we do. Chris and his wife Emily are both deeply committed to providing a safe, loving home for children in need and have fostered 17 children. Please join us to learn more and be inspired by Chris and the CASA/GAL volunteers serving our children - the Super Heroes!

Fondly,

Gloria Kelley

Volunteer Spotlight

CASA Dave has gone above and beyond for the children he advocates for (he has been a CASA/GAL for seven years and his current case has been open for three years). Although Dave has experienced long drives for child visits and often times faced with challenges from the older youth in his cases, he remains focused on the mission and task at hand. At a recent meeting where the transitional youth in his case was assigned to his fourth DCFS caseworker, the teenage boy smiled and said, "That's okay ... CASA Dave is always there for me."
